

Report on World Human Rights Day Celebration

D.A.V Public School, Thane

Date: 10th December 2024

The D.A.V Public School, Thane, celebrated World Human Rights Day on 10th December 2024 with enthusiasm and a commitment to spreading awareness about human rights. The day highlighted the importance of equality, dignity, and freedom for all, as enshrined in the Universal Declaration of Human Rights, adopted by the United Nations on this day in 1948.

The program began with a special assembly and an inspiring speech, stressing the significance of fostering respect for diversity and compassion in our daily lives, emphasizing the theme of "Human Rights for All."

A teacher's address followed, focusing on the need to protect the rights of marginalized communities and how students can contribute to creating an inclusive society. The speech was thought-provoking, touching upon issues such as the right to education, gender equality and the importance of collective efforts to end discrimination.

Display boards around the school campus showcased creative posters, artwork and slogans prepared by students. These reflected the day's spirit with messages promoting global solidarity, justice and the right to freedom of expression.

This year's observance also tied into the global theme for Human Rights Day 2024, which emphasized the universal application of rights and encouraged grassroots activism to make a difference.

The event was an enriching experience for everyone, instilling in students the values of empathy, equality and active citizenship.
